Revenue of $152.8 million, Up 7% Year-Over-Year

FINANCIAL HIGHLIGHTS

- Revenue of $152.8 million
- GAAP net loss of $0.5 million and $0.01 loss per diluted share
- Adjusted EBITDA of $26.7 million

SAN FRANCISCO--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Oct. 26, 2023-- NerdWallet, Inc. (Nasdaq: NRDS), a platform that provides financial guidance to consumers and small and mid-sized businesses (SMBs), today reported financial results for its third quarter ended September 30, 2023.

"In Q3, we achieved growth in revenue as well as our reach, with monthly unique users up 22% year-over-year and record traffic to travel content and personal loans," said Tim Chen, Co-Founder and CEO of NerdWallet. "This is a testament to our trusted brand and growing audience, and sets us up to drive meaningful operating leverage when the macro environment recovers."

"We're pleased to announce Q3 revenue of $153 million, up 7% year-over-year and above the high end of our guidance," said Lauren StClair, CFO of NerdWallet. "We saw stabilizing performance in some of our more challenged verticals, such as Credit Cards, as well as positive momentum in our Loans verticals. Our growing consumer mind share gives us confidence that as macro economic conditions recover, our ability to meet consumer needs will compound our value over time."

THIRD QUARTER 2023 HIGHLIGHTS

- Credit cards revenue of $54.0 million decreased 6% year-over-year, primarily due to reduced marketing spending by our financial services partners amidst a combination of increasingly cautious underwriting and heightened balance sheet conservatism following the regional banking crisis. Matches increased year-over-year as we grew our audience and continued to deliver quality referrals.
- Loans revenue of $32.9 million was up 16% year-over-year, primarily due to growth in personal loans, partially offset by a decrease in mortgages reflecting higher interest rates and continuing macroeconomic headwinds.
- Other verticals revenue of $65.9 million was up 16% year-over-year, driven by strong growth in banking and SMB products, partially offset by a decrease in insurance products.
- We had 24 million average Monthly Unique Users (MUUs), which was up 22% year-over-year. We saw strong engagement in areas such as travel products, banking and investing.

NON-GAAP FINANCIAL MEASURES

We use Adjusted EBITDA and non-GAAP operating income (loss) in conjunction with GAAP measures as part of our overall assessment of our performance, including the preparation of our annual operating budget and quarterly forecasts, to evaluate the effectiveness of our business strategies, and to communicate with our Board of Directors concerning our financial performance.

Adjusted EBITDA: We define Adjusted EBITDA as net income (loss) from continuing operations adjusted to exclude depreciation and amortization, interest income (expense), net, provision (benefit) for income taxes, and further exclude (1) losses (gains) on disposals of assets, (2) change in fair value of contingent consideration related to earnouts, (3) deferred compensation related to earnouts, (4) stock-based compensation, and (5) acquisition-related costs.

Non-GAAP operating income (loss): We define non-GAAP operating income (loss) as income (loss) from operations adjusted to exclude depreciation and amortization, and further exclude (1) losses (gains) on disposals of assets, (2) change in fair value of contingent consideration related to earnouts, (3) deferred compensation related to earnouts, and (4) acquisition-related costs. We also reduce income (loss) from operations for capitalized internally developed software costs.

The above items are excluded from our Adjusted EBITDA and non-GAAP operating income (loss) measures because these items are non-cash in nature, or because the amount is not driven by core operating results and renders comparisons with prior periods less meaningful. We deduct capitalized internally developed software costs in our non-GAAP operating income (loss) measure to reflect the cash impact of personnel costs incurred within the time period.

We believe that Adjusted EBITDA and non-GAAP operating income (loss) provide useful information to investors and others in understanding and evaluating our operating results and in comparing operating results across periods. Moreover, Adjusted EBITDA and non-GAAP operating income (loss) are key measurements used by our management internally to make operating decisions, including those related to analyzing operating expenses, evaluating performance, and performing strategic planning and annual budgeting. However, the use of these non-GAAP measures have certain limitations because they do not reflect all items of income and expense that affect our operations. Adjusted EBITDA and non-GAAP operating income (loss) have limitations as financial measures, should be considered as supplemental in nature, and are not meant as substitutes for the related financial information prepared in accordance with GAAP. These limitations include the following:

- Adjusted EBITDA does not reflect interest income (expense) and other gains (losses), net, which include unrealized and realized gains and losses on foreign currency exchange, as well as certain nonrecurring gains (losses);
- Adjusted EBITDA and non-GAAP operating income (loss) exclude certain recurring, non-cash charges, such as amortization of software, depreciation of property and equipment, amortization of intangible assets, and (losses) gains on disposals of assets. Although these are non-cash charges, the assets being depreciated and amortized may have to be replaced in the future, and Adjusted EBITDA and non-GAAP operating income (loss) do not reflect all cash requirements for such replacements or for new capital expenditure requirements;
- Adjusted EBITDA excludes stock-based compensation, including for acquisition-related inducement awards, which has been, and will continue to be for the foreseeable future, a significant recurring expense in our business and an important part of our compensation strategy; and
- Adjusted EBITDA and non-GAAP operating income (loss) exclude acquisition-related costs, including acquisition-related retention compensation under compensatory retention agreements with certain key employees, acquisition-related transaction expenses, contingent consideration fair value adjustments related to earnouts, and deferred compensation related to earnouts.

In addition, Adjusted EBITDA and non-GAAP operating income (loss) as we define them may not be comparable to similarly titled measures used by other companies. Because of these limitations, you should consider Adjusted EBITDA and non-GAAP operating income (loss) alongside other financial performance measures, including net income (loss), income (loss) from operations, and our other GAAP results.

We compensate for these limitations by reconciling Adjusted EBITDA to net income (loss), and non-GAAP operating income (loss) to income (loss) from operations, the most comparable respective GAAP financial measures, as follows:

- Adjusted EBITDA is expected in the range of $30 $33 million

NerdWallet has not provided a quantitative reconciliation of forecasted GAAP net income (loss) to forecasted Adjusted EBITDA within this communication because the Company is unable, without making unreasonable efforts, to calculate certain reconciling items with confidence. These items include, but are not limited to, income taxes which are directly impacted by unpredictable fluctuations in the market price of the Company's capital stock. These items, which could materially affect the computation of forward-looking GAAP net income (loss), are inherently uncertain and depend on various factors, many of which are outside of NerdWallet's control.

A reconciliation of forecasted operating income margin to forecasted non-GAAP operating income margin is as follows:

Operating income margin ¹	1%
Impact on margin of:
Depreciation and amortization	8%
Acquisition-related retention	1%
Capitalized internally developed software costs	(5.5%)
Non-GAAP operating income margin ²	4.5%
